Combined Charities Drive Features Swimming Event

Plans Include Final Dance, Fashion Show

A swimming meet, fashion show, and dance will highlight the Combined Charities drive to be held on the campus next week in an effort to raise $25,000.

The beneficiaries of the drive include the Welfare Federation, Catholic Charities, Jewish Charities, French Charities and the I.S.S.

The swimming meet will take place on the second day of the campaign—Wednesday, November 16 in the Canadian Legion Pool. The meet will get under way at eight o'clock and will be under the care of Joan Mount, one of Montreal's top women swimmers. This meet will include precision acts, diving, and racing.

Campus models will parade the wardrobe of a typical co-ed on Thursday, November 17 in the R.V.C. gym between the hours of 4 and 6. The models are being arranged by Pego McNaughton who has herself done commercial modelling and was one of the finalists in last year's Carnival Queen election.

A well-known commentator will comment on the Women's Union sponsored fashion parade.

The Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gymnasium will be the scene of the final activity of the Appeal to be held on Friday, November 10 in the form of a dance under the chairmanship of Cynthia Plant. Tickets to this event will be available at the door.

Division of the proceeds will give the International Students' Service twenty-five percent of the total. The remaining seventy-five percent will be distributed among the Welfare Federation, Catholic Charities, Jewish Charities and French Charities in a ratio to the number of students in the university of corresponding faith.

From the three events and from three other mediums, canvassing of individuals by class representatives canvassing of clubs and societies, and through a publicity stunt to collect dimes—the committee of the Combined Charities in McGill University hope to achieve their objective in the five-day campaign.

While every effort will be made to contact each of the 7,000 students by telephone, due to the incomplete class lists there will nevertheless be students who won't be contacted. In order that these students will have an opportunity to donate, booths will be set up in the Arts Building, Engineering Building and in R.V.C.

Tournaments Begin For Dawson Students

The organization of the ping pong, bowling and snooker tournaments got under way at Dawson at the beginning of this week. Over 80 students have signed up for the ping pong and almost as many have signed up for the other two events.

Red Cross Clinic Needs 400 Donors To Meet Its Quota

"We must have at least 400 volunteers today to meet our minimum total of 1,000 blood donors a week," said Mrs. R. B. Shaw, provincial English director of the Blood Donor Panel.

"It was our biggest day yet," Mrs. Shaw said, "with some 287 pints of blood being donated, bringing the complete total up to 609 pints. Over 32 hospitals in the Province of Quebec are depending on McGill for this week's supply of blood. We need at least 1,000 bottles to supply the demand of these hospitals."

Mrs. Shaw is at a loss to explain the lack of support on the part of McGill students, but she is hopeful that today will see this deficiency rectified. Colin McCallum, president of the Students' Society, today added his pint of blood to the other 286.

Students donating blood will later receive a card containing their blood grouping and R.H. factor. In case of accident these cards would save a two-hour delay in finding their blood group.

Mrs. Shaw expressed the belief that possibly the students were

Urgent Appeal Issued For Jubilee Costumes

An urgent appeal has been sent out by the McGill Alumnae, Montreal Women's Division, to students whose mothers, or grandmothers, have any old-time bathing suits or gym bloomers.

"These costumes should be of any vintage up to, and including the Twenties," said Miss Elizabeth McNab, of the Graduates Society, in an interview yesterday.

Anyone who can produce any of the articles of clothing mentioned should phone Miss McNab at the Graduates Society or Mrs. Miles Gordon at Lancaster 1569.

During the interview Miss McNab called it to the attention of the students that it is not the Graduates' Society's Diamond Jubilee, but that of the McGill Alumnae, Montreal Women's Division.

Geology Prof. To Speak To Monteregians

Professor R. G. K. Morrison, Head of the Department of Mining and Metallurgical Engineering at McGill, will address the Monteregian Geology Club at 8 p.m. in the Union cafeteria tonight.

The subject of his talk will be: "Mining Experiences In The Kolar Gold Fields Of South India"

A native of Chesterville, Ont., Professor Morrison graduated from the University of Toronto where he received his B.A.Sc. in 1923.

He has worked several years in the northern Ontario mining district, and in 1927, went to India to work in the Kolar Gold Fields. From then until his recent appointment at McGill, 1949, Professor Morrison held various positions with mining companies in that district.

In the capacity of mining consultant, he made several visits to this continent. The Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy awarded him the Inco Medal.

Another of his honors was the Leonard Medal received from the Engineering Institute of Canada for his paper: "Point Of View On The Rockburst Problem," of which Professor Morrison is a recognized authority.

MWSAA Meet Pass Changes In Constitution

Constitutional amendments, elections and awards were featured yesterday afternoon when M.W. S.-A.A. held its semi-annual meeting in the R.V.C. common room.

Tea, cakes and cookies were served before the meeting was opened by president Janie Robb.

Jane Brenchly moved the numerous amendments to the constitution, all of which were passed with little discussion. However, due to the fact that some of the girls had to leave, there was a postponement of these amendments until more arrived. During this time the managers of the various athletic clubs read their reports which included their plans for the year and the competitions which they had entered or planned to enter.

A question was brought up concerning the recreational athletics which the resident students are planning for themselves. Some felt that this would interfere with the M.W.S.A.A. activities. It was decided that a committee should be set up to investigate this matter.

Following this, elections were held for the position of three club managers. Nita Harris was elected by acclamation to take charge of the R.V.C. ski house. Audrey Sephton became ice hockey manager, also by acclamation, and Frances Hodge was elected skiing manager.

Awards which first-year students had won last year were then presented and the meeting was adjourned.

Closing Date For Contest Is Extended

Although the official closing date for entries in the Winter Carnival poster contest was last Monday, Nov. 7, it has been decided by the publicity committee to extend the deadline for two more weeks.

In view of the fact that very few posters were submitted, students will be given another opportunity to contribute poster efforts and the final closing date has been set at Wednesday, Nov. 23. It was stressed that it would be impossible to give any further extension of time than this.

Twenty-five dollars is being offered as a prize for the best poster based on a Winter Carnival theme and runner-up prizes in the form of free tickets to the winter spectacle will also be given. All entries should have the words "McGill Winter Carnival" incorporated, as well as the carnival dates—Feb. 18th, 17th, and 18th, 1950.

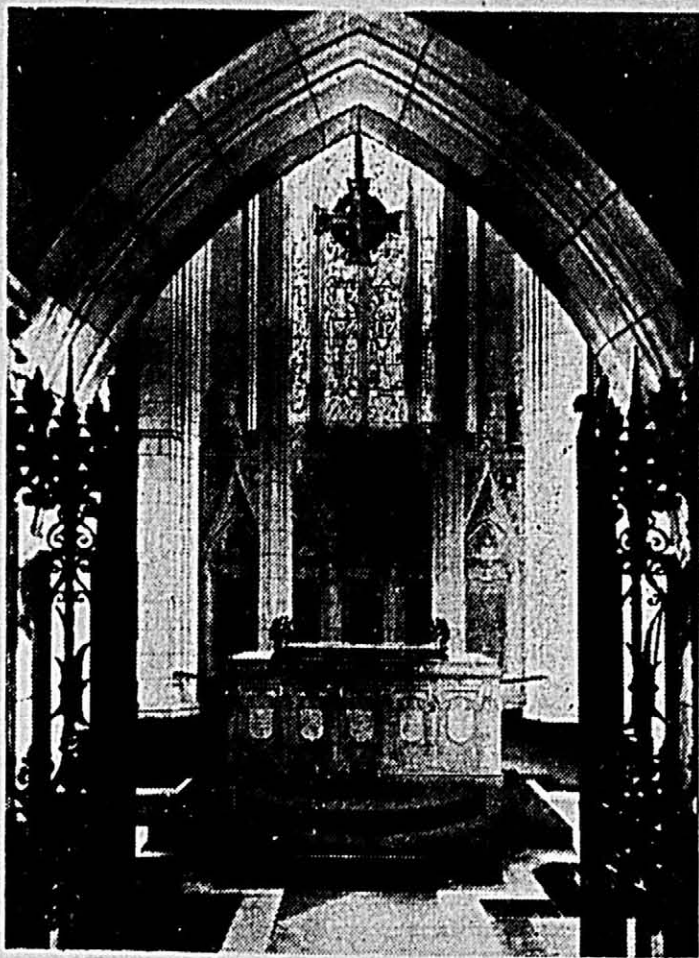

Although the judges of the poster have not as yet been definitely decided upon, it is hoped that this year there will be more student opinion represented on the board. The publicity committee said that the type of poster they are looking for is not something "arty" but rather something that will catch the eye, is colorful and will appeal to the everyday man on the street.

Those posters that have already been received are now up in the Carnival office in the Gym (Physiotherapy room) and any students that are interested in them may come and see them.

Dawson EUS Budget Uncut, Says Official

Harry Fillatrault, Treasurer of the Engineering Undergraduates Society, announced last night that the recent drastic cuts in the budgets of the clubs on the Dawson Campus will in no way affect the activities of the E.U.S. at Dawson College.

Since the finances of the E.U.S. at Dawson are controlled directly by the parent branch of the E.U.S., he said, there will be no cut in the budget of Dawson Engineers. In fact, there is ample reason to believe that the Dawson E.U.S. under the direction of John Dinsmore and his executive will have its most active year in history, Fillatrault asserted.

Les Compagnons to Present French Folklore in Song

The French popular song was long left out in the cold and regarded as a poor relative amongst the artistic circles. Up to 1939 it was, as folklore, the exclusive field of youth movements and, in its modern form, the property of a few artists of which the more representative were Maurice Chevalier, Charles Trenet and Edith Piaf.

In the past few years, the French popular song has undeniably undergone a revival; it has recaptured a large audience. The place of "Les Compagnons de la chanson" in this resurrection is second to none.

This talented group was formed during the war. Nine young men, non-professional singers, gathered their friendship, their good will and their good taste. At the start, they borrowed the better part of their repertoire from the heritage given by the French Folklore, an inexhaustible source. Success rewarded the young artists, who received general acclaim in Paris.

The reasons for this success? The appeal of a young, smiling, sympathetic team, the harmonious quality of their voice, the sprightly and witty interpretation and the fact that the popular song is innately and solely composed to be sung by a group where personalities merge, not by a single artist.

"Les Compagnons" then added numerous modern songs to their repertoire. Their happy collaboration with Edith Piaf resulted the promotion of, amongst others, "Les Trois Cloches", "Les yeux de ma mere", which now enjoy in France handed with success "Mes jeunes annees", by Charles Trenet, and "Il pleut", by Roch and Aznavou. To their choral ability, the "Compagnons de la chanson" add a remarkable gift for pantomime. One simply must see "Au clair de la Lune", which is executed with a witty charm, a smiling mischievousness and an excellent sense of humor.

There is no doubt that the "Compagnons de la chanson" will find in the art-conscious McGill public the enthusiastic and well deserved welcome which they have now been getting for several years in France as well as abroad.

Dr. James to Attend New Delhi Conference

Dr. F. Cyril James, principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University, will be among some 30 delegates to an unofficial Indian-American Relations Conference in New Delhi Dec. 12-22.

The delegates, prominent educationalists, newspapermen and industrial leaders, will represent the American Institute of Pacific Relations. The institute, in releasing the list of delegates today, said the purpose of the conference is to "strengthen all aspects of Indian-American relations, with the expectation that such discussions will promote research and mutual understanding."

Liberals Hit Government Rent Increase

The Federal Government acted in an arbitrary manner on the recent rent increases was the general opinion at the weekly meeting of the Liberal Club held in the New Room of the Union yesterday. Resolutions on the matter were brought forward and discussed. Two resolutions were passed.

Most of the members felt that the government has acted arbitrarily in this matter, and thought that the controls should have been gradually lessened or dropped altogether. However, one of the members felt that the Cabinet knew all the facts, and they wanted to remind the country that the controls weren't permanent.

Frank Hughes, Second Vice-president, said that with rent control many landlords got money by charging for the key and for decorating. The real revenue coming to the landlord of low-rental districts has been decreasing, while the cost of living has gone up. The first increase since before the war was last year which still was not enough for these landlords. Low-rental tenants don't feel the urge of moving out and building for themselves.

A member pointed out that superior courts must be impartial if they are to be fair. They cannot be when the party who appointed the judges asks them to settle something such as the rent problem. The government is just trying to evade the issue.

Gen. Nite Cancelled; To Be Held Later

"Due to the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic which is being held in the Union Ballroom this week, the 'Gen Nite' scheduled for tonight has been postponed," announced Peter Miner, chairman of the committee.

"However," he continued, "plans for a future 'Gen Nite' have been started and it is hoped that the same professor's and perhaps others who were unable to attend tonight will be present.

Keith Eddy, chairman of the Educational Committee issued the following statement to The Daily: "I would like to express, my regrets that it was found necessary to postpone the Gen Nite which was to be held last night.

Owing to the Red Cross Clinic which has been set up in the Ballroom and to last minute cancellations of Professors who found that they could not be present during the evening it was decided by the committee that it would be more advantageous for all if the Gen Nite were postponed to a date when the Ballroom would be free and the Professors able to attend. It is hoped that those who came out will be able to attend when the new date is announced.

Two Dances Featured After Western Game

"McGill colors will hang side by side with those of Western this Saturday at the dances following the McGill-Western game," said Hugh Hamilton, Dance Director of the Red and White Committee.

Both teams have been invited to the dances, said Hamilton, and it is hoped that the coaches Vic Obeck and Johnny Metras will also be present. The dances are scheduled for the Sir Arthur Curry Gym, the Tea Dance beginning right after the game and the other beginning at 8.30 Saturday evening.

The Johnny Holmes Quintet will play for the afternoon Tea Dance continuing until 7.30 and the Westernaires Band will take over from there. Admission will be 50 cents per person for the Tea Dance and 75 cents each in the evening.

Dr. Fergusson Urges Bible For Moderns

"The Bible has been by far the most influential book in the history of mankind," said Dr. Fergusson yesterday. His topic was "The Bible and the Ordinary Man."

From the Reformation to 50 or 60 years ago the Bible was the final authority in faith and morals, and to some extent in History and Science. It was woven into the everyday walk of life, and everyone accepted it.

"The whole situation has radically changed," said Dr. Fergusson, "it is now unknown and ignored." The democratic civilization of the west is built on free thoughts from the Greeks and faith and morals from the Bible.

Dr. Fergusson gave three reasons for this change in attitude towards the Bible. Our hurried and rapid age takes little time to read great literary works like the Bible, modern thought impregnated with modern science often disagrees with the Bible. The study of the Bible has not kept in pace with advances in other fields. Our knowledge of the Bible, he said, was on the Sunday School level.

"Our modern age constantly is asking questions," he said, "they are not in the least satisfied as to what was accepted before." For over 100 years now many of the best brains in Europe and America have spent their lives studying the Bible. They have thrown the light of scientific research on the Bible, if this knowledge was better known and applied, the Bible would still hold for us the divine word.

The Bible is a collection of two outstanding books. The Old Testament reached a higher notion of God than any other book in the world. It is an inspired record of the Hebrews. The prophets wrote to show how God had guided the

Squad Injury Free For Last Regular Game

By MARCEL BALTZAN
Coach Vic Obeck and his Redmen take to Molson Stadium Saturday afternoon for the most important game a senior McGill football team has played since 1938. With a chance for their first intercollegiate title since that date hanging in the balance.

They meet Johnny Metras' Western Mustangs. The Redmen are in first class physical condition for the game. Nobody suffered injuries of any serious consequences in last weekend's Toronto game. However, trainer Jimmy Adams will be busy taping up the boys for an assortment of minor injuries.

Mustang's Jack Parry and the MacFarlane brothers return to the line-up this weekend. All three missed the Western-Queen's game, but not on account of injuries. They were given a rest.

Western Injuries
Western Publicity director, Don Hunt, reports that three linemen, Wearing, Made and Ort are on the injured list. It is more likely than not that all three will turn out for the game in nearly perfect physical shape. This report may be one of Metras' strategic moves to catch the Redmen unaware.

A contingent of Western students, numbering 550 will converge on Montreal for the game. Hunt says that the group is smaller than it ordinarily would be as most Western students are contemplating a post-season play-off.

Gals
While the football team claims a heavy injury list for the contest the Western band will be at full strength. The band will be led by five drum majorettes. Five or six cheerleaders, including four girls will also be along for the contest. Varsity meets Queen's in Kingston in the other intercollegiate tilt. This game will have no bearing on the intercollegiate play-off picture, unless McGill loses. If this happens and Varsity wins, the two teams will meet the following week in a sudden death game for second place.

Playoff
The venue of a possible play-off game, between McGill and Western has not yet been determined. The CIAU constitution says that this game must be played on a neutral intercollegiate field unless the two teams involved mutually agree to play it on the home field of one team or the other.

J. P. Loosemore, the secretary of the CIAU says that the matter is under discussion and an announcement of the decisions reached will be made as soon as possible.

Vic Obeck believes his boys are ready to win. The team has been engaging in hard scrimmages all week long. They did not take a light workout on Monday night as

Student-Professor Broadcast Treats Medical Specialization

The first Radio Forum of the year will go on the air this Thursday evening on CFCF between 10.30 p.m. and 11.00 p.m. The two professors will be Dr. H. F. Moseley and Dr. Percy Vivian while John Ballon and Isadore Rosenfeld will present the student view for the Debating Society in the discussion of medical specialization.

This student-professor forum will be a weekly event put on by the Debating Society over CFCF which will concern itself with different topics each week. This week's subject will be the question: "Is the increasing tendency towards specialization within the medical profession in the public interest?"

The two professors and students will take opposing sides and present their views and opinions on the subject in open discussion. This will be followed by a moderated question period where further points will be brought forth.

Dr. Moseley and Dr. Vivian, both of McGill, are well qualified to speak on this week's subject. Dr. Moseley is best known in the medical faculty where he is assistant Professor of Surgery; he is also the Associate Professor of Surgery at the Royal Victoria Hospital. Dr. Vivian, on the other hand, as Strathcona Professor and Chairman of the Department of Health and Social Medicine, brings a different field to the radio committee.

On the student side, there will be Jon Ballon 2nd year Medical student and President of the McGill Debating Society, and Isadore Rosenfeld, 3rd year medical student, and well known for his representation of McGill in the debating tour of Britain last year.

The forum, however, will not actually be a debate but will take the form of a discussion. No decision will be given by judge; the listener will be left to decide for himself which side he feels is the more correct.

The Student-Professor Forum, first begun last year by the Debating Society, is an extension of the Debating Society's Program into allied fields connected with debating and public speaking. The Radio Forums are under the direction of Boris Berbrier, this year. The general theme after which the topics will be patterned for the forums will be "The University, its students, and the community." Tonight's announcer is Arthur Garmaise and the moderator is Boris Berbrier.

LES COMPAGNONS DE LA CHANSON who will put on a special performance for McGill students in the Union ballroom shortly after 5 p.m. today. The distinguished French singers will present a repertoire of French folklore and modern songs. Friday night at 9 o'clock they will present a concert at La Salle du Gesu on Bleury street below St. Catherine. Tickets at special reduced rates for McGill students for this second performance are now available at the Tuck Shop, R.V.C. and at the entrance to the Arts Building. Les Compagnons will appear in the Union under the auspices of La Societe Francaise.

Harriers to Race in Intercollegiate Meet

McGill's five man harrier team will travel to Kingston this week-end to compete in the Senior Intercollegiate Meet. The event will be held Saturday morning, over a course in the Gael city.

Probable entries for the Redmen will be the men who brought McGill second place in last week's Standard Road Race here in Montreal. Leading Coach Van Wagner's squad to the runnerup position behind the Montreal Track and Field Club, was Bill Jardine, a grad student who has steadily improved as the season progressed. Jardine drew third place in the Standard run, and will be one of McGill's big guns in next Saturday's race.

Another Grad student, Bruce Fisher also finished well up in the prep run. Coming in sixth, he was the second McGill man to cross the line. The other point makers for the Redmen, that is, the others among the first four to finish were Finlayson and Serbinoff. Serbinoff, has shown well in his first year in the Red and White, competing in the Inter Track team.

McGill to Encounter Crimson Rugger Men

The crimson clad Harvard rugger team will be meeting the Red fifteen at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Molson stadium. The game will mark the first occasion on which a Harvard team has travelled to McGill for such a match. Judging from last year's game, the McGill side can expect to meet a heavier team than their own, although it is unlikely that Harvard will have any American Football players on their team at this time of year as they did last spring.

The Captain of the Harvard team is Peter Manning-Smith with whom the Red fifteen's manager, Dave Floyer, has been making arrangements for Friday's match.

Once Friday's game is behind them, the Red team will be turning out next day to play the Toronto Wanderers at 2.45 at Westmount Park. This game was originally scheduled to be the semi-finals in the MacTier Cup series, but since the Toronto Club cannot see its way clear to making the trip to Antigonish if they win the game, they have withdrawn from the competition.

It is unfortunate that both the University of New Brunswick and the Wanderers have not been able to join in the contest this year, especially so in the case of the latter club who in one short season have fielded three teams, the first of which has beaten U. of T. in four out of five games. It is hoped that next year, with arrangements for the series being initiated earlier than was possible for this season, all eligible teams will be able to enter the competition.

Under the present situation, the McGill fifteen is slated to travel to Antigonish to play St. Francis Xavier College a week from this Saturday. This means that Saturday's meet at Westmount Park will be an exhibition match between McGill and the Wanderers. Mr. B. C. Gardner, President of the Bank of Montreal and an ex-rugger player, will be taking the kick-off.

The team which will represent McGill against Harvard has been announced as follows. It is imperative that all members of the team and the Rugger club turn out for the practice at 4.30 p.m. today: Full-back, MacPherson; wings, Putnam, Keleher; centres, R. Scott, Alexander; fly-half, Ramsay; scrum half, Floyer, Forwards—Front row, Race, Creery, Price; second row, Caruthers, K. Scott; third row, R. Morgan, Kent, Glen. Sixteenth man, Prentice.

Inters Meet Ottawa Friday

Unbeaten Gridders In Do or Die Tilt

BY LEN WISSE

This week-end is do-or-die for the Intermediate Indians. Like their big brothers the senior Redmen, they must win in order to stay in contention in their respective loops. The Indians, currently leading the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Conference on the strength of their unbeaten gall thus far this season, journey to Ottawa to do battle with the powerful Ottawa University Carabins tomorrow in their last game of the season. The Ottawans are also undefeated.

The Carabins, however, have tied in two of their games and are in third place, 15 points behind the locals and one marker in arrears of St. Pat's who likewise boast a clean slate but have drawn in one of their contests this season.

As far as the Indians are concerned this is the game of the season. Should they win, they will be league champions. On the other hand however, a loss would knock them out of the running and the issue would be settled between the two Capital City entries barring a startling upset next week-end when St. Pat's finish up the season. Friday's contest is the last for Ottawa U.

The Indians have been training hard for this tilt, realizing the importance of the contest, will be in top shape. There is only one casualty on the squad from last week's game against Bishop's. He is Tom Keller who suffered a fractured leg in the mud at Molson Stadium. He was one of the bulwarks of the Indians front wall and will be missed. Otherwise the squad is intact and will be fighting all the way.

POWERFUL FRONT WALL
Up front they have a powerful line that has been a terror all season. With men like Calgarians Dave Tomlinson and Bill Pullar, Denny Ellerbeck, Jack Shulman, Emil Chamandy, Ber Bertrand, Bill Nichols, Jim Miller and Rod Foster in their ranks, the Ottawans will have a very tough line to crack.

Coupled with this is a top notch backfield. Jeff Crain and Gene

Senior, Inter Hoop Squads Slashed Again

The basketball squad has finally been cut to working size. It was announced this week by Moe Abramovitz the coach. There are now two teams of 15 men each, designated as senior and intermediate. Mentor Moe has charge of the senior squad while Manny Shacter the new assistant coach is looking after the destinies of the inter squad.

The senior squad will have to be cut to 10 for intercollegiate competition, but for exhibition tilts it will probably number 12 men. The team is made up of a mixture of veterans and rookies and from all indications Mentor Moe will be able to show a good team to the fans this year.

Of the lettermen who have turned out, Mike Bloom, Hal Wilson, Lou Endmen and Bud Fraser are on the senior roster. Big Don Finlayson, a letterman from University of Toronto also turned out and has been given a berth with the seniors.

Two newcomers Al Susslin, a Vermont boy and Dennis Skinner, a graduate from local high hoop ranks are also on the senior team. They have played some impressive ball in the scrimmages and look to be good bets to stick when Mentor Moe makes his final cuts.

Other newcomers to the basketball scene are Asher Garbus and Sheldon Merking along with Bruce Cunningham. These fellows have been showing plenty of dash and the coach is going to have a tough time picking the best of the crop.

Practices are continuing three nights a week with the first game coming up in less than a month.
